

Dr. Entis Sutisna, M.Pd: E-Learning Process Efforts Teaching and Learning Activities Continue Underway Corona

The COVID-19 (corona) virus in Indonesia caused many universities to stop the process of face-to-face learning. Instead, learning is done distance (online).

Minister of Education and Culture (Mendikbud) Nadiem also seeks to build cooperation with various parties to focus on developing online education systems. FKIP Pakuan University is one of the Faculties that applies distance learning.

With the COVID-19 (corona) Virus in Indonesia, many universities have stopped the face-to-face learning process. Instead, learning is done online online.

Minister of Education and Culture (Mendikbud) Nadiem also seeks to build cooperation with various parties to focus on developing online education systems.

FKIP Pakuan University, one of the Faculties that applies distance learning with elearning.unpak.ac.id Faculties that form professional educators will even hold an online Midterm Examination with an online system in the midst of the corona outbreak.

With the elearning.unpak.ac.id is very helping students in implementing learning in social distancing conditions.

It is also possible, if Pakuan University students can develop their knowledge about technology at the moment, one of them is elearning.unpak.ac.id.

FKIP Pakuan University can prove that learning at Pakuan University is not missed and continues to run according to the applicable academic schedule or calendar, Said Herlinda.

Elearning.unpak.ac.id has been registered in the Indonesian spade and access without quota for Telkomsel packages, explained Dr. Entis Sutisna, M.Pd. With the elearning.unpak.ac.id students of FKIP Pakuan University continue to run the learning process with lecturers.

We will continue to strive to provide the best service for students in the midst of the 19th (corona) outbreak. Student learning rights must be fulfilled.

Hopefully e learning will benefit us together with Decisive vice deans of academic fields at Jabaronline.com

With elearning.unpak.ac.id is very helpful for students in implementing learning in social distancing conditions.

It is also possible, if Pakuan University students can develop their knowledge of technology at this time, one of them is E learning.

FKIP Pakuan University can prove that learning at Pakuan University is not missed and continues to run according to the applicable academic schedule or calendar, Said Herlinda.

Source: <https://jabaronline.com/pendidikan/dr-entis-sutisnam-pd-e-learning-upaya-fkip-universitas-pakuan-tetap-berlangsung-ditengah-corona/>